Payment of the amount indicated
on the remittance
advice form is now due

Dear Customer,

Now that you have had your Addmaster machine for 14 Days Free Trial, we trust that you have found it satisfactory. Of course there is really nothing quite like trying out the Addmaster in your own premises.

As you will appreciate from our leaflet "How the Addmaster Free Trial Works" payment of the amount indicated on the Remittance Advice Form is now due. Simply complete this form and send it back to us with your cheque or postal order in the reply paid-envelope. Please cross your cheque and make it payable to Addmaster Corporation (U.K.) Ltd.

If you want to order a box of tally rolls and a spare ribbon (applies only to the adding machines, cash registers and electronic printing calculator) at the same time – and many people do – simply add the amount for these items to your remittance for the machine – and please remember to enclose the Supplies Order Form which was supplied with the machine.

If – and we hope this is not so – the machine has not proved suitable and you wish to return it – please replace it in its original packaging and post it to us carriage paid.

N.B. Don't forget to include the Remittance Advice Form suitably marked. Otherwise we won't be able to cancel this invoice.

If, due to an unforeseen delay in delivery, you have not had the full 14 days in which to test our machine, kindly return this form stating actual date of receipt and we will adjust our records accordingly.

Many thanks for sending for your Addmaster. We appreciate your custom. For our part, if you have any questions, please don't forget that our telephone Hotline 01-640 1211/2064 is at your service.

Yours sincerely,

Victor O'Reilly,
Managing Director

N.B. Remember to include the Remittance Advice Form. It's important.
